Christmas OTM Prayer Walk

November 7 | 9:00am

We've selected neighborhoods right around Hunter Street so we can invite our neighbors to Christmas OTM. We'll be passing out door hangers as an invitation, with a link to free tickets. Prayer walking is a way to love and serve our neighbors by praying for them.

Every door we reach is a family we get to pray for, and we'd love your help reaching more of them! Sign up at hunterstreet.org/cotm.

Blanket Fort Hope

Blanket Fort Hope restores child sex trafficking survivors through essential services, compassionate care, and a loving Christian witness. They help survivors heal with trauma-informed therapy in a safe and confidential environment.

Ways to Serve

Join the prayer team, give gift cards so the survivors can buy clothes and accessories, or help decorate the outside of the house for Christmas. Exterior decorations are also needed.

To learn more, call the Church Office or email serve@hsbc.org.

Christmas Over the Mountain

December 11-13, we get to share Jesus with our community through Christmas Over the Mountain (COTM)! Tickets are on sale now, and all proceeds go to Alabama Baptist Children's Homes, so every ticket helps care for kids and families across our state. More than a Christmas production, COTM is one of our biggest opportunities each year to reach people with the gospel. Together, we'll pray for, invite, and welcome people who don't yet know Jesus. Start now by praying for a few people by name. A ticket is an easy way to open a conversation with someone you've been praying for. It takes our whole church family to make that happen, and there are lots of ways to serve.

Visit the COTM Hub to find a place to serve, along with resources to equip you for this outreach.
